

Clarity

Clarity is the third and final anthology of true-life stories presented by The Pathfinders Collective.

This collection features both emerging and more established storytellers from across the globe. There are many tones: funny stories, serious stories, and everything in between. All are united by the common theme of a moment when the writer realized something important about themselves or their life.

A time where they found clarity.

The Pathfinders Collective

Clarity is brought to you by The Pathfinders Collective, a collaboration between Erin Rodgers and Jeremy Kredlo. We are storytellers, united by our love of the true story movement.

We have spent the last 3 years creating projects to lift up the voices and shine a light on the talent of the incredible international community of storytellers; specifically, those who tell stories from their lives.

You can find out more about the Pathfinders Collective at <https://pathfinderscollective.org>

Clarity The Pathfinders Collective

Clarity

*Stories About
The Moment That Changed It All*

from The Pathfinders Collective

